He claims that the landings of the Apollo Moon were fake "Hoax" of the encounts buzz Aldrin and Neil Armstrong on the moon NASA training model. Opinion surveys taken in several places have shown that between 6% and 20% of Americans, 25% of Britishers, and 28% of the Russians surveyed â € â € believe that manned landings were falsified. "[16] In a man in a man the moon, [17] published for the first time in 1994, Andrew Chaikin mentions that in the moment of lunar-olbita mission of Apollo 8 in 1968, [18] similar Ideas of conspiracy were already in circulation. [19] claimed motives from the United States government. Three major theories are below. Space racing motivation for the United States to wrap the Soviet union in a space race can be traced to the cold war next. Landing on the moon would be risky and expensive, so exemplified by President John F. Kennedy, declaring famously in a speech of 1962 that the United States chose to go because it was difficult. Hoar Theory Debucker Phil Warg says in his 2002 Bad Astronomy book, [b] that the Soviets - with his own competing moon program, an extensive intelligence network and a formidiable scientific community capable of analyzing the Data from NASA - would have been a huge victory of advertising for the Soviets. Instead, far from calling the landings a farce, the third edition (1970 - 1979) of the great Soviet day (1970) (which was translated into English between 1974 and 1983 by Macmillan Publishers, and later It has been made available online by TheFreeditionary.com [22]) contained many articles reporting landings as factuals, such as this article about Neil Armstrong. [23] In fact, your article on spatial exploitation describes the landing apollo 11 as a "third historic event" of the space era, following the release of Sputnik in 1957, and the flight of Yuri Gagarin in 1961. [24] Sibrel Conspiracist Bart replied, affirming incorrectly of the space era, following the release of Sputnik in 1957, and the flight of Yuri Gagarin in 1961. [24] Sibrel Conspiracist Bart replied, affirming incorrectly and incorrectly affirming incorrectly and incorrectly affirming incorrectly and incorrectly affirming incorrectly and incorrectly affirming incorrectly affirmed incor that, "the Soviets did not have the ability to track deep spatial handmade up to the end of 1972, immediately after which, the last three missions Apollo were abruptly canceled ". [25] In fact, the Soviets had sending the spacecraft unroll the Moon since 1959, [26] and "during 1962, deep spatial tracking installations were introduced in IP-16 in Ussuriisk and IP-16 Evpatoria (Criminal Penisula), while the Saturn Communication Stations were added to 3, 4 and 14, "[27] this last having a range. of 100 million km (62 million). [28] The Soviet Union tracked the Apollo Missions in the body of spatial transmissions, which was fully equipped with the latest gathering and vigilance equipment. "[29] Vasily Mishin, in an interview for the article" The Moon Program that faltered, "describes how the Soviet Union tracked the Apollo Cancellations, which was fully equipped with the latest gathering and vigilance equipment. "[29] Vasily Mishin, in an interview for the article" The Moon Program that faltered, "describes how the Soviet Union tracked the Apollo Cancellations, which were made for cost cutting reasons. These were announced in January and September 1970, [31] two entire years before the "final of 1972 "claimed by SIBREL. [32] (See Vietnam War below.) The financing of NASA and the teachers of the prestigious conspiracists believe that sending men to the moon, and Kaysing claimed in his book that this could have been used to" pay "many people. [33] As most conspiracists believe that sending men to the moon was impossible on Poca, [34] argue that landings had to be fingered to fulfill the goal of 196 1 of Kennedy, "Before this is to be out, to land a man on the moon and return it surely to the earth. "In fact, NASA was responsible for the cost of Apollo to the US Congress in 1973, totaling US $ 25.4 billion. [36] Mary Bennett and David Percy claimed in the book Dark Moon: Apallo and Whistles , which, with all the risks known and [37] NASA would not risk transmitting an astronaut getting sick or dying on live television. [39] The counter argument generally given is that NASA in fact, no video transmission during landing or takeoff during landing during landing or takeoff during landing during during landing during landing during landing during the compete; The budget of NASA reached the peak in 1966 and fell 42% in 1972. [42] This was the reason for the final flights were cut together with plans for even more ambitious follow-up programs, such as a Permanent spatial and manned vain for Mars. [43] Claims of Hoax and refutation Many theories of landings did not happened, but it is not counted. racissts focused on perceived gaps or inconsistencies in the historic registry of missions. The main idea is that the ventine manned landing program was a farce from the beginning to the end. Some argue that the van Allen Radiation belts, solar vind, coronal mass ejections and clinics rays made this trip impossible.
